ROXY GALLERY

Tabulam's Sport and Recreation Building has been given a make-over and now wears a permanent reminder of local indigenous pride.

Community and cultural pride is now on permanent display at Tabulam.

The village's sport and recreation building has become a showpiece for Aboriginal community pride thanks to a joint project involving NORTEC, Connect, Southern Cross School and Kyogle Council.

About 20 young people, mentored by members of the Tabulam Village Maintenance Crew, gave the sport and rec building a colourful make-over late last month, painting a mural on the structure.

The mural features the words Stand Tall Bundjalung Tribe which wrap around the building. Two turtles, a catfish, hand prints and dot work also form part of the mural, which was painted in an afternoon.

Previously, the Tabulam Village Maintenance Crew had painted an undercoat on the building.

The young people involved were aged between 14 to 18 years and according

Shop Awning Safety Check

Kyogle Council is urging all shop owners and tenants to ensure they undertake structural checks and routine maintenance of their buildings.

The move comes after a spate of structural failures in shopping centres and the collapse of shop awnings.

"All shop owners with awnings attached to their buildings and which extend out over a public footpath are responsible and liable for any failure or collapse causing damage or injury," Council's Executive Manager Planning and Environment

Kyogle Council is urging all shop owners and tenants to check the integrity of their building awnings after a spate of structural failures in shopping centres and the collapse of shop awnings.

Greg Meyers said. "Especially where it is identified that the failure is a result of a lack of preventative or ongoing maintenance."

Mr Meyers urged shop owners and tenants to think seriously about hiring a structural expert to undertake the checks. "Engaging the services of an appropriately qualified structural expert is recommended for several reasons," Mr Meyers said "The expert may identify critical areas not ordinarily visible which could be a failure point, while also providing you and your insurer some security and satisfaction."

Village Mayoral Meeting Program Gets Thumbs Up

Kyogle Mayor Danielle Mulholland's newly introduced Village Mayoral Meeting program has received the thumbs up from the Woodenbong Progress Association.

A spokesperson for the progress association said the mayoral meeting held at Woodenbong in February had "led to a new communication level with Council".

"The February meeting for Woodenbong produced new initiatives, visual placement, immediate answers and understanding of issues pending" the progress association spokesperson said.

"It's a great initiative and we'd like to thank the mayor for making it possible."

well pleased with their efforts.

"The project was really successful," she said.

"It was both engaging and empowering.

"A range of different age groups were involved in the project and it allowed those taking part to show they are proud Aboriginal people."

From the Mayor

I'm really enjoying getting out and meeting with so many people across the Local Government Area (LGA).

So far we've been to Woodenbong on 12 February, and Bonalbo on 12 March, with Mallanganee and Mummulgum scheduled for 16 April.

I hope you are getting as much out of the meetings as I am and I hope it provides an opportunity to interact directly with members of the Council.

I do appreciate your input.

The next Village Mayoral Meeting will be held at Cawongla on Wednesday, May 14, from 10am – noon, and I'd be very pleased to see you there.

All I ask is that you ring and book a time with Ms Janelle McLennan at Council on 6632 0214 so that you won't be kept waiting. If you can also advise her of your issue and contact details (i.e. phone numbers, email, etc.) this will help me to make some background enquiries so that any information you receive is correct and up to date.

We have some wonderful ANZAC Day celebrations planned for Kyogle, Woodenbong, Bonalbo/Old Bonalbo, Mummulgum and Mallanganee.

I hope to see many of you there to honour and remember those service men and women who have given so much to defend and preserve our way of life.

Can I also remind everyone that the 6th anniversary of the Woodenbong Yowie Country Markets will be held on the last Saturday of April (26 April).

There will be live music, food, airbrushing and spinning wheel workshops and exhibitions, kids' jewelry working and other fun activities.

Council's Focus Groups continue to be held and this month the focus was on visitor attraction and ageing in place with some great ideas coming out of them. We'll keep the momentum going to achieve some real outcomes and I'm hoping that while gradual, you'll see some tangible positive changes in the near future.

A big thank you to the ladies from Quota who donated a cheque for $1000 to Council for the installation of water bubblers down behind the Visitor Information Centre.

Thank you ladies – your efforts are really appreciated and your donation will help to water our thirsty travellers.

I like to meet as many of you as I can but there's only one of me and there's a lot of you so if you see me in the street, feel free to say hello.

Alternatively, you can always phone, email or contact me on Facebook if there's something you'd like me to know about. I'll always try and do my best to represent your needs in Council and to the various committees and levels of government that I encounter as part of the role of being Mayor. But remember, speak up and be heard and together we'll see what can be achieved.

Stay tuned as there will be more to come next time.

Quota Quenches Thirst

Having a cool drink of water while you're out walking in Kyogle is much easier thanks to a partnership between Kyogle Council and Kyogle Quota.

Kyogle Quota has contributed $1000 towards the cost of installing a water refill station at the Amphitheater Park.

The refill station has a water bubbler, a bottle filler and a dog water bowl.

They are manufactured by the savewater!@ Alliance, of which Council is a member.

Kyogle Quota agreed to part-fund the refill station after members decided they wanted to contribute to a project that benefited the wider community.

"A water station is something everyone can use," Quota president Rhonda Watts said.

"Not only can people drink from the bubbler, but they can refill their water bottles or water their dogs if they're out walking.

"And because it's located near the Visitor Information Centre, it can also be used by travellers."

Kyogle Mayor Danielle Mulholland thanked the members of Kyogle Quota for their contribution following the formal presentation of the $1000 donation.

"Council is grateful for the donation and very appreciative of the work which Quota undertakes in the community," she said.

This is the second refill station Kyogle Council has installed in the last six months.

The first was installed at Anzac Park last year after Council received a similar $1000 contribution from the Kyogle Lions Club.

End Domestic Violence

The Kyogle District Domestic Violence Committee is urging the community to join with it in eradicating family violence.

Everyone who feels strongly about stopping domestic violence and increasing community awareness of the crime is being asked to either join the committee or sign up as a sponsor.

The move comes in the wake of the committee's successful 16 days of activism campaign. Seventy five people including Kyogle Mayor Danielle Mulholland attended the launch of the campaign at which the people of Kyogle were asked to take the pledge to Say No To Domestic Violence. A further 200 people signed pledges in local businesses.

"The committee made a decision to bring about awareness around unacceptable behaviour of violence against women during the 16 days of activism," committee member Jacqueline Barton of Kyogle Family Support Services said.

"However the committee is about preventing all forms of family violence and abuse.

"We are asking members of the community to join us in trying to eradicate these heinous acts of family violence from our community.

"People can help by registering an interest in becoming a member of the committee, or providing sponsorship." To register phone Kyogle Council Community Development officer Nicola Mercer on 6632 2473 or Jacqueline Barton on 6632 1044.

Charity Bike Ride Pedals into Town

Organisers of the second annual Three Hospital Charity Bike Ride are hoping to surpass last year's fundraising total of $12,000.

Held over three days from 2 May – 4 May, the 250km bike ride supported by the Kyogle Lions Club raises funds for the Kyogle, Bonalbo and Urbenville Hospitals.

Cyclists will depart Kyogle for Bonalbo at 8am Friday, 2 May, ride to Urbenville on Saturday and back to Kyogle for a barbecue lunch at the Visitor Information Centre Park on Sunday, 4 May.

A spokesperson for the Lions Club said sponsors were already committing donations and Lions Club members and riders were lining up fund-raising raffles.

"This is a fantastic weekend of fun, 250km of beautiful scenery, a little bit of pain and lots of laughs, while supporting your local hospitals," she said.

Places on the ride are limited, with intending riders asked to pay their registration of $300. Deposit details: BSB 062 563 A/C 10142695.

10 Tips to Help Prevent Wood Smoke Pollution

With winter fast approaching, Kyogle Council residents are being urged to do what they can to reduce wood smoke pollution.

One of the major contributors to wood smoke pollution in the colder months is the incorrect use of wood fire heaters.

On colder days, wood smoke particles from inefficient heaters float in the air and can be seen as a smoke haze that sometimes sits over built up areas.

Not only is this sort of pollution unattractive, it can also be bad for people's health.

Wood smoke can cause breathing difficulties, especially for people suffering existing respiratory conditions, such as asthmatics and for very young children and frail older people.

There is also evidence that smoke pollution can cause cardiac problems.

Local householders can help reduce the amount of wood smoke pollution this winter by using aged dry wood and running heaters properly.

The incorrect use of home wood fires is one of the major causes of air pollution in the winter months.

The NSW Environment Protection Authority has provided the following 10 tips for reducing wood smoke pollution:

- Don't let wood-fired heaters smoulder overnight – keep enough air in the fire to maintain a flame.
- Burn only dry, aged hardwood – unseasoned wood has lots of moisture, which causes a fire to smoke.
- Store wood undercover in a dry, ventilated area – freshly cut wood needs to be stored for at least eight to twelve months.
- Never burn rubbish, driftwood or painted or treated wood, they are sure to pollute the air and can produce poisonous gases.
- When lighting a cold heater, use plenty of dry kindling to establish a good fire quickly.
- Use several small logs rather than one large log and stack them loosely in the woodheater, so air can circulate around them – don't cram the firebox full.

- Keep the flame lively and bright – the fire should only smoke when first light and when extra fuel is added. Open the air controls fully for 5 minutes before and 15 to 20 minutes after reloading the heater.
- Check the chimney regularly to see how well the fire is burning – if there is smoke coming from the chimney, increase the air supply to the fire.
- Have the chimney cleaned every year to prevent creosote build-up.
- When buying a wood heater, make sure it has a compliance plate showing it meets the Australian Standard (AS/NZS 4013:1999).

It's the responsibility of all wood heater owners to follow these easy steps and minimise the harmful effects of smoke pollution on their neighbours and the environment.
