Watkins Bridge Opening

A large crowd watched brothers Lyle and Geoff Watkins officially open the new $500,000 bridge on Collins Valley Road north of Kyogle on Saturday, 15 February.

Other guests at the event included Kyogle Mayor Danielle Mulholland, Deputy Mayor Maggie Creedy, Federal Member for Page Kevin Hogan, State Member for Lismore Thomas George, and Mrs Dulcie Watkins.

The new two-span concrete bridge replaces a timber structure which was severely damaged in the January 2012 flood.

It was named Watkins Bridge in honour of John "Jack" Watkins who settled on the property beside the bridge almost 80 years ago. Since then three generations of the Watkins family have occupied and farmed the land beside the bridge and continue to do so.

Work on the new bridge commenced last August and was completed in November. It was built by locally based contractor Ozwide Bridge Rail and Civil and was funded in part by 2012 Natural Disaster Funding with the remainder provided by Kyogle Council.

Ward Boundary Changes

Kyogle Council is seeking community comment on a proposal to alter the boundaries of its three wards to ensure the number of electors in each is relatively equal.

Council is required under the Local Government Act to regularly review the number of voters in each ward.

Should it find voter numbers in one ward differs by more than 10%, then it must alter the boundaries to ensure the numbers are about the same in all three.

World War I Commemorative Photo Exhibition

The Kyogle and District Historical Society Inc in conjunction with the RSL Kyogle Sub Branch will mount a display of photos and memorabilia to commemorate the Centenary of the outbreak of the First World War.

The display will be set up in the Foyer Shop of the Kyogle Memorial Institute in Kyogle's main street and will run from 7-30 April this year.

The historical society and RSL sub branch are keen to hear from anyone with photographs, letters, diaries or memorabilia which could either be

The proposal currently on public display was developed by Council and would result in a spread of just 12 voters between the highest and lowest populations. The ward boundaries are based on census collector districts. Council is keen to hear what the community thinks and is inviting submissions from the public on the proposed amendments. All submissions should be in writing to the General Manager and will be received until 16 April, 2014. The ward boundary map can be inspected at Council's office or seen on Council's website at www.kyogle.nsw.gov.au

Amalgamation Update

There's no need to panic. That's the advice from Kyogle Mayor Danielle Mulholland regarding recent speculation about Council amalgamations.

"The State Government has assured us that this will not happen before the election in 2015 and the recent Final Report of the Independent Local Government Review Panel doesn't recommend any action in our area until 2018 to 2020," she said.

"I think we'd be wise to wait and listen to arguments for and against and see what happens in Sydney and larger regional centres first. I'm sure we'll have plenty of warning before any significant action occurs."

From the Mayor

What wonderful Australia Day celebrations we've had all across the local government area.

I was especially impressed with the spirit and enthusiasm shown throughout the villages with a special mention to Woodenbong.

I thought your service was outstanding. I send my warmest congratulations to all the recipients of awards and especially to Kyogle's Citizen of the Year – Ruth Haig. If you see Ruth in the street, you know what to say.

The General Manager and I attended NOROC on 7 February and some spirited discussions ensued.

It's clear there are issues that are LGA specific but there are other issues that need a regional approach and a whole-of-region voice to the other levels of government to be heard effectively and here I'm specifically thinking of transport and communications.

We'll be making representations to both State and Federal Ministers in the near future looking for better and more consultative planning and some milestones for action in our region. I'm glad that we're part of this group and as its Vice President I'll be pushing for ever more active and targeted lobbying and representation to attract as many benefits as possible for our region.

Neighbours – no, they're not just a television show.

We all have neighbours whether they're across the fence, across a paddock or a property or two away and sometimes we have differences of opinion.

Recently, I've seen an upsurge in the number of issues between neighbours who have called on Council to rigidly apply its statutory or regulatory powers to intervene to solve a squabble.

Some issues are relatively simple, some have been going on for a number of years, some have a good basis in fact and some are based on less tangible information. Many could be solved if Council wasn't the first port of call in a dispute and if residents could treat each other with a little more understanding and respect.

If Council does become involved, it has a set of procedures to follow to try to ensure that the rights and responsibilities of both parties are acknowledged and respected and that, sometimes, takes time. Sometimes, lots of time. We try our best, but quick isn't always possible.

What is possible is the neighbour you think so little of may be having his or her own set of life challenges which might be affecting their behaviour.

It's worth a discussion to see if there's a good reason why things are different to the way you'd like them to be. Life presents us all with good and bad times and we all deserve a little compassion occasionally.

I understand that our LGA also has people with quite divergent choices. You may well be a very hard working farmer who needs to generate a decent living from your property or you might be a retiree or lifestyle for whom property means something different.

Could I recommend either 'Living and Working in Rural Areas Handbook' or the 'Rural Living Handbook' as a starting point (both of which are accessible via the internet) to help understand each others' perspectives.

Let's make an extra effort to try to all get along and enjoy the natural beauty throughout the LGA.

Stay tuned as there'll be more to come next time.

Aunty Patsy Farewelled

A huge crowd farewelled former Kyogle Council Deputy Mayor and respected Bundjalung elder Aunty Patsy Nagas at a funeral service at Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church, Kyogle, on Thursday, 30 January.

Aunty Patsy died on 19 January after a long, courageous battle with kidney disease.

She was just 66 years old. The daughter of Uncle Mick and Aunty Ruth Walker, Aunty Patsy worked tirelessly throughout her life to improve the wellbeing of the Bundjalung people and was committed to promoting reconciliation.

She was intensely proud of her heritage and was remembered by friends and colleagues as a woman who never stopped trying to effect change and right injustice.

Aunty Patsy was elected to Kyogle Council in 2004, taking on the role of Deputy Mayor in the same year. Her election to Council re-wrote the history books – she was the first Aboriginal person to be elected to Kyogle Council and the first Aboriginal person to serve as Deputy Mayor of the Council.

“Some people think that things will never change; Patsy wasn't like that. She believed that if you put in the effort and worked at it, things could be different. She didn't ever stop trying,” is how a Council colleague remembered her.

Aunty Patsy played a pivotal role in Kyogle's NAIDOC and Reconciliation celebrations, campaigned to protect significant and sacred Aboriginal sites and was a passionate advocate for Aboriginal health. She was a member of the Bundjalung Elders Council and a long-time member and past Chairman of the Gugin Gudduba Local Aboriginal Land Council. Aunty Patsy and husband Gary Nagas had five children Jolene (deceased), Arminell, Gabriel, Courtney and Matthew.

Maintenance and Construction Works

The first of the two East of the Range maintenance grading crews has completed work on Main Creek Rd and will move to the Wiangaree area to do Moores, Ferndale and Phelps Rds. The second East of the Range grading crew is moving to the Dyraaba area. The West of the Range maintenance grading crew is finishing works on Old Lawrence Rd and will then move to Rodgers Rd. Construction work on the Clarence Way south of Urbenville between Boomi Creek Rd and the boundary with the Tenterfield local government area has been completed and work has started on Ettrick Rd on the far side of the range. The Jetpatcher has been working on streets in Kyogle and Kyogle Rd and will then move on to the State highways. Rdside slashing has been completed on the Bruxner Highway, Tabulam Rd and Sextonville Rd and will start on the south end of the Clarence Way and Bentley Rd. Vegetation control has been completed on the Clarence Way and is due to commence on the Summerland Way and the Bruxner Highway. Culvert works on Lynchs Creek Rd and the construction of a concrete bridge on Williams Rd are completed. The next project for the bridge crew will be the construction of a new bridge on Toonumbar Rd.

School Centenary

St Brigid's School, Kyogle, will celebrate its centenary with a host of activities planned for the weekend of 16-17 August. Organisers of the celebrations are hopeful a large number of former pupils, staff and friends of the school will return to Kyogle for the two-day event. The program includes an Open Day at the school on Sat, 16

August, from 10am to 3pm. On Saturday night a formal dinner will be held at Kyogle Bowling Club. The cost is $30 a head and includes a two-course meal. On Sunday, everyone is invited to attend Mass at 9am at Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church followed by morning tea in the Parish Hall. For more information email cinnamonclark@gmail.com

New Bus Service

Two new bus services which will operate every Thursday are about to make life easier for people living in and around Kyogle, Woodenbong and Urbenville.

Starting Thursday, 6 March, a Kyogle shopping bus service will offer door to door pick up and drop off for people living around Geneva, Kyogle, Highfield Road, Homeleigh and Fawcett Plains Road areas.

It will depart Geneva three times during the day; 9.10am, 11.50am and 1.50pm and is available to everyone in the community. It will be run by Waller's Bus Company and help will be available with shopping bags and to assist people on and off the bus.

Bookings are essential and can be made by phoning 6622 6266 or 0428 255 284. The second new bus service will be run by Watsons Bus Company and will provide a new midday service between Urbenville, Woodenbong and Kyogle every Thursday.

It will operate in association with Watson's regular weekday service and will mean that people wanting to travel to Kyogle to shop or go to medical appointments, will not have to spend the whole day in town.

People travelling from Urbenville/Woodenbong and all points along the route, can arrive in Kyogle at 9am or 1.30pm and leave Kyogle at 11am or 3.30pm every Thursday.

The midday service will be a Hail'n'Ride service along the route meaning there will be no set bus stops – people will be able to stand where ever it is safe along the route and hail the bus as it approaches. The service will offer a $2.50 all day red ticket with pensioner concession.

For more information about Watson's Thursday extra midday bus phone 6635 1336 or 0428 874 350.

The two new services were made possible thanks to a $45,000 NSW Government grant through the Regional Transport Co-ordination Program auspiced by Kyogle Council.

Village Mayoral Meeting

Kyogle Mayor Danielle Mulholland will hold her next village mayoral meeting on Wednesday, 12 March, at Bonalbo, between 10am-noon.

Residents and ratepayers with feedback for the Council or wanting to discuss particular issues or concerns, can book a time to meet and talk with the mayor.

The Mayor will also invite the relevant Ward Councillor to attend the meeting.

Bookings can be made by phoning Janelle McLennan at Kyogle Council on 6632 0214. People making a booking should be prepared to provide their contact details and information about the issues to be raised.

Whenever possible, the relevant Executive Managers will be asked to attend to answer any questions of an operational or technical nature.

If there are no meeting times booked, the meeting will be cancelled.

Swimming Pool Barrier Inspections

Council will soon start swimming pool barrier inspections in line with the State Government's new Swimming Pools Regulations.

The program will provide for the inspection of all registered and approved swimming pools over a three-year cycle.

Under the new regulations, all pools must have a valid Certificate of Compliance which has a life of three years provided no major alterations are done to the pool or barrier.

Council is currently programing the pool inspections into areas to ensure the auditing is undertaken in the most efficient manner.

All residential areas will be inspected first, then the council will move to rural residential areas then rural areas in localities.

The legislated fee is $150 for the first inspection and $100 for a subsequent inspection (if required).

The fee includes the issuing of the Certificate of Compliance.

And while the Council intends to inspect all pools over the coming three years, landowners who would prefer not to wait, can apply to have their inspection carried out straight away.

Meanwhile, from April this year all properties to be sold or leased must have a current Certificate of Compliance.

Application forms for a compliance inspection are available at Council.

Optasy

until 28 March

*Spin of Uthun
by David Brink*

Optasy, the first exhibition for 2014, has opened at Kyogle's Roxy Gallery. The opening of the exhibition of works by local artist David Brink comes after the gallery was closed for a short period so it could be cleaned up for the new year.

More than 6,000 people viewed exhibitions at the Roxy last year. Following the spring clean, it seemed appropriate that David, who has volunteered his time at the gallery as a cleaner for more than four years, should stage the first exhibition of the year.

He entitled his exhibition 'Optasy' to describe the nature of his style of work, portraying the Optical and the Fantasy of natural themes through the use of colour, composition and brushwork.

The body of work on exhibit features a collection of paintings, drawings, photography and sculpture.

In his work David explores the notion of fantasy and how he as an artist visualises fantasy.

David is just one of many people from throughout the region who volunteer their time to support the day to day running of the Roxy Gallery. So come into the newly cleaned Roxy Gallery and see what else a cleaner sees.

'Optasy' will be on display until 28 March 2014.

Wrapped in Love

A Love Wrap Knitting Group has been formed in Kyogle and will meet on the first Tuesday of every month at the Roxy Gallery, Kyogle, beginning in March.

The Wrap With Love movement began two decades ago and was the idea of the late Sonia-Gidley King who wanted to do something to help alleviate the loss and trauma experienced by the victims of war. She came up with the idea of making warm blankets and called on her friends to help her knit squares which could then be sewn together to make wraps.

Twenty two years down the track and Wrap With Love is making 30,000 wraps a year and sending them to more than 50 countries.

The lovingly hand crafted wraps are also distributed to people in need in Australia.

Kyogle woman Lynda Clark who is helping organise the Kyogle Love Wrap Knitting Group has invited everyone keen to get involved to get their knitting needles out and come along to the first meeting on Tuesday, 4 March, between 10am-1pm.

"People can either contact me on 6632 2656 or just turn on the day and receive a ball of yarn and pattern instructions," Lynda said. For those who don't have any knitting needles, don't worry, Lynda will have spares.

Jobs for the Boys

Upper Clarence Combined Landcare takes its role in providing local employment opportunities very seriously.

Particularly in light of the declining job opportunities in the western portion of the council area which have gone hand in hand with the restructure of the farming and forestry industries.

This has also contributed to a fall in the number of young people living locally and a decline in school enrolments.

President of UCCL

Rosemary Clark said the group's management committee was firmly of the view environmental management could not be separated from socio economics.

She said many full time jobs had been created in environmental management over the past 17 years.

Currently five full-time workers are engaged in large scale control of lantana, a weed of national significance, on 11 properties in the Upper Clarence.

Mrs Clark said the five-year project funded by the Federal Government through the Biodiversity Fund was producing outstanding results and was well on the way to reaching its target of controlling 500 hectares of lantana, and improving the health and biodiversity value of the local bush.

"While there is a place for volunteers, our priority is employment," Mrs Clark said.

"We source all our materials locally, use local earthmoving contractors, and employ locals.

"Currently we have five fulltime field workers, four of whom are from our local Aboriginal community.

"They are achieving great outcomes on the ground, enjoying the hard work, and know they are contributing."

Field workers with the Upper Clarence Combined Landcare Anthony Maclean, Marty Walker, Steve Walker and Don Walker.

Kyogle Council has prepared Draft Development Control Plan 2014 (DCP) to replace Council's nine existing Development Control Plans.

During this time the draft DCP is available for inspection by the public and Council is seeking comments on the draft document. Before preparing a final version of the new DCP, Council will take into consideration submissions that have been made.

Where can I view the Draft DCP? The draft DCP can be viewed at the following locations during business hours: Council's Administration building in Kyogle, Mallanganee Post Office, Woodenbong Post Office, Tabulam Post Office, Old Bonalbo Post Office, Cawongla Store and Bonalbo Post Office. How do I make a submission? Submissions should be made in writing and addressed to; The General Manager, Kyogle Council, PO Box 11, Kyogle NSW 2474. The period for making submissions ends on 28 February 2014.

How do I find out more? Phone Council's Planning Department on 6632 029?

Street Markets

Kyogle Council has moved to clarify the process for setting up street and market stalls in the Kyogle CBD area following inquiries from the public. Council's policy allows not-for-profit organisations to hold occasional street stalls in the Kyogle CBD provided the organisations have booked through Council's administration centre to avoid clashing with other approved activities.

The Kyogle Farmers Market is an approved event run under the auspice of Kyogle Tidy Towns and is held adjacent to the Kyogle Library and Council Chambers each Saturday morning.

While no approvals are currently in place for any other markets in the Kyogle CBD, opportunity exists for any organisation interested in coordinating monthly markets to make formal application to Council.

All enquiries should be directed to Council's Planning Department staff who can advise of all necessary requirements including insurances and guidelines.
