Ageing Survey

Council has recently engaged Cartwright Consulting Australia Pty Ltd to carry out an analysis of the need for services and facilities in relation to ageing in place, disability support and respite care in the Kyogle Council Local Government Area.

The project will assess the current need for services and facilities and seek to determine if there are needs that are not currently being met.

It will also look at how those needs will change in the future.

The needs analysis will assist Council's Ageing in Place, Disability Services and Respite Care Focus Group to develop strategies that Council can implement to assist to address current and future needs. These strategies will be included in Council's draft updated Community Strategic Plan.

This edition of the community newsletter includes a questionnaire prepared by the consultant to assist information gathering for the project – all interested persons are encouraged to complete the survey and return to Council by folding the form where indicated, ensuring the Reply Paid address is visible on one side and putting it in the post. Please return ASAP.

The form is reply paid so postage is free. If your household has two or more adults and you each want to complete a questionnaire, please make a copy of the survey and fill out and return both.

The consultant, Colleen Cartwright, has also asked that people who wish to provide more detailed or specific input to the study to do so via email to cartwrightconsultingaust@gmail.com.

While Colleen is happy to receive emails, due to the short time frame of the project she may not be able to respond to each submission. Please respond ASAP.

Reconciliation March

The whole community is invited to join the Kyogle Reconciliation March on Friday 26 June, at 11.30am.

Organised by the Kyogle Reconciliation Group, the march is being held as part of NAIDCO and Reconciliation Week celebrations.

It will move along the Summerland Way and Geneva Street to Anzac Park where there will be a free lunch and a range of free activities for young people.

Aboriginal children from all the local primary schools and Kyogle High School have been invited to march and encouraged to bring a few friends to join in and show reconciliation in action!

The free activities include a jumping castle, live DJ, face painting, basket weaving, boomerang painting and hip hop dance workshop with Kulcha Jam from Byron Bay. In the lead up to the march the Kyogle Reconciliation Group is running a colouring-in competition in conjunction with all the primary schools in the Kyogle local government area.

There will be two prizes of $50 vouchers for the Kyogle Bike Shop up for grabs. The march and activities at Anzac Park are an alcohol and drug free event.

Bonalbo's Got it All!

Check out the new sign erected on the Bruxner Highway to promote the village of Bonalbo.

The sign was the brain child of the Bonalbo Past and Futures Committee, who got approval for the structure back in 2012.

The sign was erected by Kyogle Council after Council's Economic Development and Tourism Officer Malcolm Wallis provided funding from the advertising of the area budget to cover the costs of making the original vision for the sign a reality. Thanks also go out to the property owner Mr

Lance Strain for providing the location and Shane Woodland and the boys from the Bonalbo depot for getting the job done. Go check out Bonalbo, it's got everything except you!

From the Mayor

FIT FOR THE FUTURE CONTINUES By the time you read this, the public meetings at Bonalbo, Woodenbong and Kyogle concerning the IPART rate increase, the Long Term Financial Plan and our submission to the State Government's Fit for the Future process will have been held and your views gathered for further consideration.

I'd like to thank all those people who attended, asked questions and took the time to let us know how you'd like to proceed.

Council is here to listen to and represent your views to the State Government about how you see the future of our LGA, so it's important that we get an accurate idea of where you want to go.

The public meetings are a valuable part of that process.

The intention is to lodge our submission by 30 June 2015 (as per the State Government's requirements) and await the determination of the appointed Panel of Experts due out by 15 October 2015.

What happens after our submission is lodged will be in the hands of the State Government and whatever the final result, you can be sure that we'll let you know as soon as we hear anything substantial.

ALGA I attended the Australian Local Government Association (ALGA) Conference which was held in Canberra from 14-17 June.

The conference represents an important opportunity to hear, and learn from, councils across Australia about the challenges and issues confronting them and how we can better represent the views of our constituents to the Federal Government and its respective Ministers to ensure that we get the best deal possible for our residents and ratepayers.

It's a hectic few days of the formal agenda program as well as before and after hours meetings with various representatives.

I always go to these conferences with great hope and an open mind and I think that we will see the dividends from building networks at all levels of government begin to bear fruit in the near future.

OUT AND ABOUT May and early June have been a blur of meetings and commitments too numerous to mention individually but I would like to thank the tireless ladies of Quota for their kind dinner invitation on 9 May 2015.

I greatly enjoyed the dinner and it was wonderful to hear the great work that these dedicated ladies do for our community. You also have seen that Leah Hobbs, Sam Elley and myself (pictured above) took part in the 100km Challenge for May to raise funds for the earthquake victims in Nepal and our own victims of domestic violence. A big thank you to everyone who participated and donated. We raised $1000 for each worthy cause. You can be sure the money raised is both welcome and desperately needed.

Meeting of our various focus groups have continued as we aim to have the objectives and strategies for the Community Strategic Plan (CSP) completed by August 2015. In case you didn't know, the CSP is a document that all Local Government Areas in NSW were required to develop as part of the State Government's Integrated Planning and Reporting requirements.

It is a strategic document that reflects the community's priorities and aspirations. It outlines what the communities that make up our LGA have told us that they want and the current plan has six key strategic areas. One of the roles of the focus groups is the review these areas, amend them to be in line with the key focus areas and expand/embellish/enhance them as needed. Sounds exciting doesn't it? Stay tuned as there'll be more to come next time.

*Until next time, all the best,
Cr Danielle Mulholland

Household Asbestos Disposal Scheme

Kyogle Council residents have just over a week to save up to 50% on asbestos disposal fees as part of the Household Asbestos Disposal Scheme (HADS).

The scheme closes 30 June 2015.

Up to 200 tonnes of bonded asbestos has been collected across the Northern Rivers in the last nine months as part of the scheme.

Householders are able to dispose of up to 5 tonnes a household if using a licensed asbestos removalist.

Or people can themselves remove and dispose of up to 10m² using kits available from the Council.

The program has been funded by the NSW Environment Protection Authority (EPA) as part of their Waste Less, Recycle More program that is directing $58 million over five years into programs that aim to alleviate illegal dumping across the State. Asbestos waste has been identified as a priority waste targeted under the program due to the dangers associated with dumping of this material and the potential risks to human health.

Asbestos dumping in NSW is a major issue for councils who often have to bear the cost of clean-up and disposal of the asbestos and rehabilitation of the site.

The HADS has been a trial program to identify whether reducing disposal costs has a direct impact on reducing the cases of illegally dumped asbestos. Since 1 July 2014, the seven Northern Rivers councils participating in the HADS have dealt with ten cases of illegally dumped asbestos.

To access reduced asbestos disposal fees before 30 June 2015 contact Kyogle Council on 6623 1611 for details or visit www.newaste.com.au/asbestos/

When booking a licensed asbestos removalist ensure that they are offering you reduced disposal costs under the HADS scheme.

ASBESTOS

Householder Disposal Scheme

Residents are encouraged to take advantage of reduced fees for asbestos disposal across the northern rivers from 1 July 2014. Landfills at Grafton, Kyogle, Lismore, Tweed and Casino will be accepting asbestos under the scheme.

The Household scheme covers bonded asbestos only. Any resident using a licensed asbestos removalist, can dispose of up to 5 tonnes, once only and must provide proof of residential address.

Householder Asbestos kits for removing up to 10m² are available from most participating councils.

For more information visit www.newaste.org.au or contact your local council.

Youth Advisory Committee

Kyogle Council is looking for young people from across the local government area to join its Youth Advisory Committee. The committee is open to 12 and 25 year olds and aims to give youth from the whole Kyogle Council area the chance to have a say and be involved in youth matters. Committee members are charged with helping identify issues facing young people living in the local government area and providing feedback to Council on the needs of youth. They will also be asked to help find solutions to the challenges the area's young people are facing and be involved in projects targeting youth. Committee members also have the chance to gain leadership skills, provide a voice for themselves and their counterparts and learn about good governance. If you are interested in joining the committee or finding out further information about what's involved, phone Kyogle Council's Community Development Officer Nicola Mercer on 0417 025 919.

Ability Links Gym Up

Three-month gym memberships are available at the Kyogle Community Gym for six people under the Ability Links Program.

The pilot scheme, Enabling Kyogle Community Gym, is funded by the Northern Rivers Social Development Council in conjunction with Kyogle Together and is open to people who have felt unable to use the gym due to disability, mental health issues or life skill challenges.

The scheme is due to begin on Thursday, 2 July and will provide the group of six people with an hour-long supported session at the gym every week for 13 weeks.

The sessions will run from

Ability Links Sharron ????? better caption

10am to 11am and carers of participants are included in the pilot funding. Sharron, the gym's qualified trainer, will design a program to suit the needs of individual participants with the aim of increasing their confidence to train during general gym sessions. Ability Links is a NSW-wide program aimed at promoting social inclusion for the many people in our society who are often excluded due to physical or mental challenges. Ability Links promotes the rights of people living with disability, particularly the right to participation and individual outcomes. If you feel that you or a person you care for could benefit from a personalised exercise program and the opportunity for some quality social contact, call Ability Links staff, Sandy Kelly on 0438 407 006 or Robert Baldwin on 0400 127 514, to register.

Waste Less Recycle More

Kyogle Council's Environmental Health and Waste officers David Bell and Ellen Hill attended a soccer day at the Kyogle High School Oval recently, wrapping up the last of the events targeted as part of the 'Waste Less, Recycle More' Litter Free Project.

Mr Bell said the crowd at the soccer carnival was very enthusiastic about the project.

Children of all ages

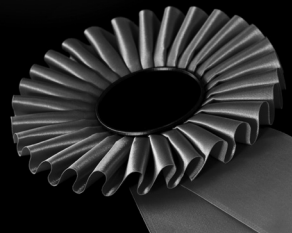

Noa Ryan took the Waste Less pledge and won a $100 voucher.

participated by filling in pledge cards, encouraging others to put rubbish in the bin and talking with staff and North East Waste partners on how they planned to keep their local environment clean and green. One lucky pledge maker even won a $100 voucher for their efforts which they can spend anywhere in the Kyogle area. Council would like to thank all who have attended and participated at the various events and hopes the Waste Less, Recycle More Litter Free Project has motivated the community to continue to do the right thing when it comes to disposing of litter.

Kyogle Business Awards

business in the Kyogle local government area will be celebrated at a gala function on Saturday, 4 July, 2015 hosted by the Kyogle and District Chamber of Commerce.

The Kyogle Business Awards will be held at the Kyogle Golf Club, with awards to be presented in nine separate categories.

They include: Best Large Business; Best Small Business; Young Entrepreneur of the Year; Best New Business; Employee of the Year; Tradesperson of the Year; Customer Service Award; People's Choice Award; and Community Service Award.

There will also be an award for Overall Business of the Year, which will be selected from the new, small and large business category nominations received.

The awards are open to all businesses operating for more than 12 months with the Kyogle local government area.

Bonalbo Multi Purpose Service Concept Designs

On Wednesday 1 April 2015 a series of meetings were held at Bonalbo to present two concept design plans for the new Bonalbo Multi Purpose Service (MPS).

Meetings were held first with the project user group and then Bonalbo Hospital staff.

The final meeting was a Bonalbo community update meeting held at the local bowling club.

During these meetings the project architect discussed the pros and cons of each concept design and highlighted that the major difference between the two options was that one option reflected a single story design and the second option reflected a two story design for the new MPS.

Two of the main issues raised by the single story design is the potential conflict of traffic between ambulance, facility deliveries and the car park and the long distance that will need to be travelled from the back of house area (receiving kitchen, linen delivery, general stores etc.), through the acute treatment area to reach the residential aged care area. The two story design would make use of the natural slope of the existing site and see the back of house area located underneath the residential aged care area and a lift installed to allow easy access from the back of house area to the rest of the facility.

The next phase of planning, once the concept design has been agreed upon, will be the schematic design phase. Schematic design determines where actual walls, doors, windows will be located which inform the basis of the final building design.

From the community consultation meeting it was agreed that the wider community should have the opportunity to view the design options and provide feedback for consideration by the project team before a final concept design is approved.

A decision on the final concept design is expected this month (June).

Roxy Gallery

'Europa', 'Time Flies', 'Green Pigeon Creations' and 'Steam Punk Designs'

June at the Roxy Gallery, Kyogle will see two exhibitions in one by three local artists.

Europa will feature the work of Deborah and Rodney Brown while works by Jenny Kitchener will be showcased in the exhibition Time Flies.

Both will run at the Roxy until 4 July, 2015. Europa is a body of work inspired by fond memories of sites Deborah and Rodney experienced on a trip to Europe.

The arches, alley ways and stone walls of France, The Netherlands, Spain and Italy feature strongly in their paintings. From vast vistas to doorknockers, Deborah and Rodney's acrylic paintings capture the essence of Europe.

Wings, time and change are some of the themes which Jenny Kitchener explores in her exhibition Time Flies.

A variety of artworks, including linocuts and screen prints, will showcase a selection of past and present work.

An obsession with insects and their amazing abilities and adaptations will be displayed as beetles and butterflies fight for space on the gallery walls.

Insect pollinators and their importance to the production of food under pins much of Jenny's more recent work.

Tuscany Landscape Italy by Deborah Brown

Hovering in the centre of her latest prints are curious crossbred insects; half mechanical and half biological. These prints aim to bring the viewers' attention to the manufacture of pesticide-proof robotic drone pollinators which are being created to feed the human desire for new and 'better' ways to produce food and make a 'healthy' profit.

Nothing measures the passing of time like a calendar on the wall.

Every year since 1988 Jenny has printed a small edition of calendars to be given to family and friends. A selection of twelve calendar images will also adorn the walls of the wonderful Roxy Gallery as part of the exhibit. The exhibition will also feature hand crafted jewellery of two very different styles.

Green Pigeon Creations is the work of Kath and Ian Rodgers. Their many trips fossicking around Australia have resulted in unique pieces created by the talents of both.

Steam Punk Designs by Louise Gilbert combine old elegance with modern detail creating wearable jewellery for today.

Step Up for Care Connections

Northern Rivers Care

Connections is looking for motivated people of all ages to form a fundraising committee to help the Kyogle-based organisation continue its community work.

The organisation provides care and support to people aged over 65 years, people with a disability and carers and has been helping people from Kyogle and villages continuously since 1991.

Currently, more than 500 people in the Kyogle and Richmond Valley council areas use services provided by Northern Rivers Care Connections. The group's aim is to help people maintain or improve their independence.

"We are looking for people from all walks of life that are committed to our cause and the community and who are willing to set aside time to organise

and be part of fundraising events," a spokeswoman for Northern River Care Connections said.

"It could be someone with a creative side looking for an outlet, or someone with ambitions to work in event planning. Or maybe someone looking for a philanthropic hobby.

"Whatever the motivation, we need help to raise funds so that we can continue to meet the needs of our community."

Prospective fundraising committee members should also have access to internet and email.

If you would like to join the committee or find out further information, contact Sharon, the Northern Rivers Care Connection Volunteers Coordinator, on 6632 2194.
