COUNCIL HALVES number of timber bridges

Kyogle Council has halved its ageing timber bridge inventory in less than 15 years and is on track to replace all its timber bridges by 2044.

In 2004, Council had 304 timber bridges, most of which were built in the 1940s and were reaching the end of their natural life.

Following the completion this month of another two new bridges - one on Afterlee Road and one on Williams Road - Council has just 148 timber bridges left to replace.

The incredible turn-around comes on the back of a detailed bridge management strategy adopted by Council and the development in 2014 of a Long Term Financial Plan in which Council sought to replace all its timber bridges in 30 years.

Council is currently on track to meet its zero timber bridge target by 2044 thanks to an ambitious bridge construction program and the replacement of many smaller bridges with concrete pipe culverts.

"Council has adopted an aggressive, multi-faceted approach to sourcing funding and delivering real outcomes for the community," Kyogle Council Mayor Danielle Mulholland said.

"To that end, we could not have achieved the funding success we've had without the support of Federal Member for Page Kevin Hogan, who has argued our case in Canberra, and State Member for Lismore Thomas George who has lobbied Macquarie Street for us.

"Council now has only 148 bridges left to go and we'll continue to pursue the funding necessary to continuously improve the infrastructure across the whole of the local government area."

The two new bridges on Afterlee and Williams Road are dual lane steel truss bridges.

"The completion of these two bridges represent a significant milestone in Council's overall bridge replacement strategy," Council's General Manager Graham Kennett said.

"Halving the number of timber bridges in a 15-year time frame should be seen as a major achievement and also provides confidence that the remaining program can be delivered on schedule."

Mayor, Deputy Mayor re-elected to serve another two years

Councillor Danielle Mulholland, pictured, has been re-elected Mayor of Kyogle Council for another two years.

The C Ward Councillor was elected unopposed at the September Council meeting and will lead the Council into the next local government election in 2020.

This is Cr Mulholland's fifth term as Mayor and the first time she has been elected unopposed.

Cr Mulholland thanked her colleagues for their continued support and pledged to continue lobbying the State and Federal Governments for funds for key infrastructure projects including the upgrade of the Clarence Way, development of the Tabulam Agri-Business Precinct and Council's ongoing timber bridge replacement program.

"This is the first time since 2013 that the mayor's position has been uncontested," Cr Mulholland said at the September meeting.

"And to have the support of the whole council behind you is just wonderful."

right, also was re-elected Deputy Mayor.

It is his fourth term in the position.

Cr Burley defeated Councillors Kylie Thomas and Earle Grundy in a ballot for the position.

The Deputy Mayor's term also will run for two years.

The Council at its September meeting also set its meeting dates and times for the coming 12 months.

Council resolved to continue holding its meetings on the second Monday of every month except in January when no meeting is held and June when the meeting is held on the Tuesday after the Queen's birthday long weekend. Meetings are held at the Council Chambers at 1 Stratheden Street Kyogle and start at 5pm.

From the MAYOR

Once again, it's been a very hectic month with lots of social events and a raft of official meetings.

I was pleased to see the Woodenbong All Day Garage Sale and Market being held and to attend the Tabulam Medieval Festival.

Then it was off to the My Mayor Rules cook-off at the Bangalow food festival to promote our area with its high quality food products.

While we didn't win, we did come in second beating out Byron and Richmond Valley and only just missing out to Lismore. We'll get them next year!

A big thank you to Debbie McQueen from Gateway Fine Foods for her champion efforts on the day. She prepared some truly innovative and tasty dishes under challenging circumstances.

For those of you who aren't aware, the Supercheap Auto group filmed their latest television commercial in Kyogle not far from where I live. It was great to go along on the day and welcome the cast and crew to our locality. Hopefully, this will help to further highlight all the great attractions that we have to offer in the area.

On a more official note, as Chair of the Northern Rivers Joint Organisation that represents all the councils in the Northern Rivers, I was called to Sydney to meet with the State Government and attend a workshop by Local Government New South Wales, after fleshing out our regional priorities and preparing a statement of regional priorities.

I also met with the Premier, Deputy Premier, and Ministers to let them know all about Kyogle and what we need up here. We may be a long way from Sydney but I think they all know where Kyogle is by now.

At the local level I hope everyone has seen the commencement of the greening of Kyogle's main street. It's hoped the project will be finished sometime during October.

In future years, the trees will grow and in the heat of summer the main street will be a shadier, cooler place than at present.

I would like to congratulate all the service clubs involved in the installation of new outdoor gyms at Kyogle.

The new equipment helps to contribute to healthy and active lifestyles and I encourage everyone to go and have a look and perhaps, if you're feeling adventurous, try out some of the equipment.

Mention should be made of the new committee heading up the Kyogle and District Chamber of Commerce.

The new committee is: President, Mel Serene; Vice-President, Vanessa Wernowski; Secretary, Meghan Hogan; Treasurer, Mandy Boocock.

Huge thanks to the new committee and to the retiring committee who have done so much to promote business throughout the district. I'm very aware of the important role that local businesses play in our economy and Council will continue to work closely with the Chamber to support and promote a healthy and vibrant business sector.

Until next time,

Danielle Mulholland

Village plans to guide future development

Over the last nine months Council and the community have worked together to prepare master plans for the villages of Wangaree, Woodenbong, Old Bonalbo, Bonalbo, Tabulam and Mallanganee.

The master plans are intended to guide development of each of the villages over the next 10-20 years, including the development and improvement of public facilities and infrastructure.

The plans identify improvements to things like footpaths, parks and gardens, and public facilities such as halls and sportsgrounds.

The plans also identify preferred future or ongoing uses for the Crown Reserves that are located in and around the villages.

The development of the master plans involved extensive consultation with the community of each village, including workshops and surveys as well as input from key stakeholders and village-based advisory groups. Kyogle Council Mayor Cr Danielle Mulholland said the various communities seized the opportunity to shape the future of their villages.

"It was great to see so many community members involved in the master plan process," Cr Mulholland said.

"All of the community workshops were well attended and there was some very healthy discussion and lots of great ideas.

"We believe the master plans have captured the community's vision for the future of their villages and we thank all who got involved."

Council will now seek to implement the actions identified in the plans as resources permit.

The timetable for implementation will depend on the priorities identified in each plan, resources allocated through the annual budget and works programs, and opportunities for grant funding.

The master plans can be accessed on Council's website at www.kyogle.nsw.gov.au under Planning and Development\Plans and Strategies.

There are also copies available for viewing at the following locations; Mallanganee Store and Post Office, Tabulam

The Visions of Village Life masterplans pictured above can be downloaded from Council's website or viewed at village post offices or stores.

NEW GYMS

a free resource for all

A health revolution is taking over Kyogle with the official unveiling of three new outdoor gyms.

The project, a joint initiative of Kyogle Council, the NSW Government, and Kyogle Combined Service Clubs, has also seen a new disabled toilet built at the netball courts, improvements to the town's skate park and new fence installed at ANZAC Park Playground.

Member for Lismore Thomas George officially opened the project then joined Kyogle Council Mayor Danielle Mulholland and representatives from Lions, Rotary, Quota and CWA in testing out the new facilities.

Mr George said the initiative

The community celebrates the official opening of the new outdoor gyms.

would provide free recreational opportunities for all community members and was the result of strong community collaboration.

"Through contributions from the NSW Government, Kyogle Council and the Kyogle Combined Service Clubs this community now has access to free state of the art public gym equipment."

Mayor Mulholland has welcomed the community health benefits which will result from the completion of the project.

"Everyone can benefit from physical activities and research tells us that outdoor gyms provide opportunities for people to participate in moderate and vigorous intensity physical activities and muscle strengthening," she said.

"I congratulate the service organisations in Kyogle who have partnered with Council to deliver these projects and I thank Mr George for his efforts lobbying to secure $100,000 funding from the Stronger Country Communities Fund and $44,500 from the Social Housing Community Improvement Fund," she said.

a safety risk to road users

With drought conditions prevailing across the Northern Rivers, Kyogle Council and local police have received a surge of complaints about cattle unattended on public roads.

Allowing cattle to roam unattended, without a permit, on public roads presents a serious safety risk to road users.

If cattle are allowed to roam on public roads without a permit and are involved in a motor vehicle accident, it is highly likely the stock owner's public liability insurance will not cover the accident.

If you have cattle on your property, Council requests that you carry out a thorough inspection of all fences and gates to ensure that they are in good condition.

Should you identify unattended cattle on public roads, please ensure that you follow the below process.

1. Call Council immediately and ask to lodge a Customer Request. Specific location details are to be provided.

- During business hours Council may be contacted on 6632 1611.
- After hours Council may be contacted on 6626 6800.

2. If possible, take a photo and e-mail the photo along with the date, time and specific location to council@kyogle.nsw.gov.au. In the subject line write 'Cow on Proctors Road 9/12/2016' or similar. Alternatively, the photo and particulars may be forwarded to Council as a hard-copy.

3. On most occasions Council will not be Landholders need to obtain a short term grazing permit if they want to graze their cattle on the side of the road.

able to inspect immediately, and Council is generally unable to inspect minor roads outside of normal business hours. However, the Customer Request and e-mail records will form part of Council's information gathering.

4. For Council to pursue formal regulatory action, a Council officer generally also has to witness an offence. With very limited resources and a large Local Government Area to manage this may take some time.

Please note that stock owners may apply for a Short-Term Grazing Permit issued by Local Land Services (LLS), which relates to a section of road where both sides of the road frontage are fenced, and the stock owner wishes to graze their cattle for a short time (eg 28 days) in accordance with permit conditions.

The Short-Term Grazing Permit process is a two-staged process involving Council and LLS.

The stock owner is to apply to Council identifying the section of road (within their road frontage boundaries) on a map; nominating the proposed duration of grazing; and enclosing a copy of their Certificate of Currency for $20 million public liability insurance including roadside grazing and listing Kyogle Council as an interested party.

Should Council support the proposal, endorsement will be given to the stock owner, who then has to contact LLS to complete the process.

To obtain a copy of Council's application form, please visit Council's website (www.kyogle.nsw.gov.au). There is no fee associated with Council's application form and Council may be able to assist with a map. There is a small fee associated with LLS's permit, which is currently $1 per animal (older than six months) per week.

Should you require further information regarding Council's application form, please contact Council's Assets and Infrastructure Services Department on 6632 1611 during normal business hours.

Bridge to culvert replacement program restarts

Council's bridge to culvert replacement program will restart in October and will continue through to the end of the year.

Council will be installing culverts to a replace timber bridge on Imesons Road, Eden Creek Road, Duck Creek Road, Woodworths Road, Yates Road and Walters Road.

One of Council's bridge crews is currently constructing the Marr Bridge replacement on Williams Road and another is finishing up replacement of Campbells No.2 Bridge on Lynches Creek Road before moving to Campbells No.1 Bridge.

The rehabilitation of sections of Summerland Way near Glen Road between Grevillia and Woodenbong is continuing and is expected to be finished in November.

The Culmaran Creek Road rehabilitation project is progressing on schedule.

Pavement repair will be carried out on Unumgar Street in Woodenbong in October and heavy patching is currently underway on sections of Cawongla and Afterlee Roads.

The Greening the Main Street project will be finalised in October.

The 13 new street trees and installation of planter box seats at main intersections and a drinking fountain are aimed at making Kyogle's main street a welcoming area for visitors and locals alike. Council has received much positive feedback on the project.

Work will soon commence on construction of a stage at the Kyogle amphitheatre and rehabilitation of the Fawcetts Creek bank land-slip at the amphitheatre will also be undertaken.

Bonalbo swimming pool received a new coat of paint over the winter months and is refilled ready for the new swimming season.

The change rooms at Bonalbo pool have also been repainted and the kiosk floor refinished and the starting blocks at Woodenbong swimming pool, pictured below, have been replaced.

More bricks needed for Kyogle labyrinth

The labyrinth at Alcorn Park, Kyogle, is on track to be completed by the end of this year.

It is being built by Kyogle Council and community members.

The Friends of the Labyrinth hold information stalls each week, usually on a Thursday or Friday morning, in front of the Kyogle Post Office or on Summerland Way near the newsagent.

The group also has a stall on the second Saturday of each month at the Kyogle Farmers Market for anyone wanting to learn how they can design their own paver ($25) or buy a standard paver with a name or words engraved on it ($20).

The Kyogle Library has the application forms for the pavers and Gateway Office Supplies and PRD Real Estate will accept completed forms and payment.

Those people wanting to design their own paver should ask for a couple of the practice sheets before drawing the final design with an Artline 70 black felt pen.

The Labyrinth will comprise 1745 pavers.

Underneath the etched pavers there will be the same number of bricks. They will form the substrate and be glued together end to end to make the Labyrinth design.

The Friends of the Labyrinth have collected 500 bricks so far from members of the community and are looking for more. If you have some bricks which are standard size and mortar free, please give some thought to donating them for the base of the labyrinth design.

Kyogle Council has left some palettes down at the Kyogle Caravan Park on the right hand side of the Manager's red brick house.

Bricks can be placed on top of the palette and Council will then store them at its depot until the construction commences later this year.

If you need the bricks to be picked up, please call Noelle Lynden-Way on 02 6632 3963 and it will be done pronto!

The Kyogle Labyrinth is a not for profit community project backed by the Kyogle Council.

Council joins library funding campaign

Kyogle Council has joined Local Government NSW's campaign to secure a significant increase in State Government funding for public libraries.

The Council unanimously resolved at its August meeting to support the Renew Our Libraries campaign in the lead up to the 2019 State election.

The campaign aims to convince the Government that unless funding for public libraries is increased, libraries around the state will have to cut services.

Council also resolved to write to NSW Minister for the Arts Don Hardin, NSW Shadow Minister for the Arts Walt Secord and Member for Lismore Thomas George calling for bi-partisan support for the provision of a significant increase in state funding for NSW public libraries, supported by a sustainable future funding model.

The level of State Government funding for NSW public libraries has reached crisis point. This is an historic issue that has been ignored by successive NSW governments. The key issues are that:

- NSW public libraries receive the lowest per-capita funding from their State Government compared to all other states in Australia
- NSW councils are currently paying 92.5% of the costs to operate public libraries, up from 77% in 1980

BIOSECURITY

is everyone's responsibility

Imagine sowing, waiting for rain, and having your crop invaded by a parasitic plant, such as Red Witchweed, which grows by attaching its roots to the host plant, thereby suppressing its growth.

This could happen if Red Witchweed, pictured, makes its way into NSW by way of returning holidaymakers. It has already entered Queensland from overseas.

Farmers, researchers, agronomists, government agency staff, scholarship recipients and tourists from rural areas need to be hyper vigilant with their hygiene practices when returning from overseas trips.

Rous County Council Weeds Biosecurity Officer, Kim Curtis, says that by taking unnecessary risks with hygiene, people are putting Australia's native vegetation at risk.

"Just because you get through customs at Brisbane or the Gold Coast, doesn't mean you are not posing an enormous risk to our biodiversity upon your return," Mrs Curtis said. "Likewise, travelling from Queensland into NSW can pose a huge threat from weeds they have, but are not yet in this state, such as Parthenium weed.

"Overseas, you are exposed to pests, weeds and diseases that are endemic in these countries and their presence on you, your personal items and luggage may not be obvious.

"Some weed seeds, such as Witchweed, are so minute they are like specks of dust.

When you return to Australia, you could be bringing these unwanted curses with you.

Potential weed threats come from similar climatic ranges such as China, India and South America. Tropical soda apple, which is native to Argentina and Brazil now affects Australia, Africa, Nepal, Honduras, USA, and many other countries with similar climates.

If you are visiting farms and rural regions overseas you should wash your cloths and clean your footwear before you pack to return to Australia. If that's not possible, do it immediately when you return. Footwear should also be disinfected using a disinfectant, bleach or an alcohol/water mix if possible.

If you have been somewhere that poses a particularly high risk, such as an area you know is infested, consider leaving your clothing and footwear behind.

For a copy of the new Weed Biosecurity priority list go to www.rous.nsw.gov.au and select 'Weed biosecurity', 'Weed information', 'Weed resources'.
