WORKS STARTS on new Cedar Point Bridge

Work has started on the new $2.6 million Cedar Point Bridge.

Local company Ozwide Bridge Rail and Civil was awarded the contract to replace the 83-year-old concrete bridge which has been operating under a 20-tonne load limit for the past two decades.

Edenville Road has been closed to all traffic at the bridge site while the new bridge is being built, with the expected completion date to be March 2022.

Traffic is being detoured along Omagh Road and Edenville Road.

The new bridge will use two of the existing centre piers, although they will be modified to meet modern engineering standards.

The old smaller piers will be replaced with new structures and new abutments also will be built.

The bridge's superstructure will be completely replaced.

Like the old bridge, the new bridge will be single lane, however it won't have any load limits.

Kyogle Mayor Cr Danielle Mulholland said Council would not have been able to replace the old bridge if it had pushed for a dual lane structure.

"It would have cost significantly more to build a two-lane bridge," she said.

"It's taken 20 years to secure funding for a new single lane bridge and Council did not want to risk waiting even longer.

"The new bridge will meet all modern engineering standards and importantly won't have any load limits."

Council received a $2.1 million grants under the State Government's Fixing Country Roads Program and a contribution of $200,000 from Grahams Quarry for the new bridge.

Council will fund the remaining $300,000.

from the Mayor ...

Please be advised that the State Government's emergency services levy has significantly increased in recent years, with this being paid for by your rates.

This is not a Council decision and while we support our emergency services personnel, we have essentially become levy collectors for the State Government.

We are not allowed to list the emergency services levy as a State charge on your rates bill, but have to roll it into your usual rates.

When queried as to why it couldn't be a separate line item on rates notices, I was told "well, then they'd blame us".

I am not happy with this response nor are any of the Joint Organisation Chairs or the Country Mayors' Association.

The latter group passed a motion challenging this position, and for now the levy increases for the 2021/22 financial year will be subsidised by the State Government.

We have requested the State Government defer any further increases in the levy until this mess can be sorted out. I am not optimistic.

Ratepayers should be aware that 10% of Council's total rates revenue is paid straight back to the State Government in various levies.

I think it's disingenuous of the Government to insist that the emergency services levy be rolled up into your rates bill.

I can't emphasise enough that we support our emergency services personnel - they do a wonderful job and this money is intended to cover them if they are medically affected on the job.

However, let's be upfront about it. This is a State levy, collected by Council, and paid straight to the State.

I was honoured this month to be presented with my Patron badge for the Bonalbo CWA, see picture below.

The CWA has been a stalwart organisation in rural Australia for generations and I am truly humbled to be nominated Patron.

Many thanks to the Bonalbo CWA sub-branch for this honour: I will do the best I can to live up to your expectations.

The Risk Public School held their market day again this year which was a roaring success.

There were stalls in abundance with live entertainment for the kids and generous amounts of food. It's always a good day out so if your local school is holding an event, pop along and support them.

Housing is becoming a major issue for discussion across the region.

Affordable, social, crisis and emergency accommodation are all part of the bigger questions around housing provision.

Kyogle Council has held its own internal workshop on housing, with the Northern Rivers Joint Organisation hosting a housing workshop this month.

We will be looking at all alternative housing options and opportunities, reviewing data on social housing stocks in the Northern Rivers and identifying solutions to address our housing challenges.

We continue to advocate around funding opportunities, particularly for the missing link of the Clarence Way, which is an ongoing issue.

We have some runs on the board, but we will continue to lobby for more funding, improved services and investment in infrastructure so we can continue to improve the lives of our residents and ratepayers.

This is my last Mayoral Column prior to the Local Government elections on Saturday 4 September 2021.

Under the Local Government Regulation 2005, in the 40 days preceding an election councils are prohibited from publicising an "electoral matter", with an electoral matter defined as anything that is intended or likely to affect voting in an election.

The name, photograph and likeness of a candidate fall within the definition of "electoral matter".

CIVIC PRECINCT to receive a $2M facelift

Council has been successful in securing $2 million from the NSW Public Spaces Legacy Program to carry out the first phase of its CBD masterplan works. The grant will allow Council to complete phase one of its Civic Precinct Activation Project, which focuses on the Stratheden Street precinct. The area takes in key community, cultural and creative facilities including the library, museum, art gallery and auditorium, cinema, council offices and independent local hospitality and retail businesses.

Works in the first phase will focus on Stratheden Street and Roxy Lane and will also include new landscaping works on the southern approaches to the CBD along the Summerland Way. Stratheden Street and Roxy Lane will be designated a one-way street, and a shared surface area will return priority to pedestrians. The project also will see new landscaping, lighting and street furniture installed with the aim of creating a more attractive and useable public area.

Council's Director Planning and Environmental Services Chris White said the design was aimed at giving pedestrians priority in the civic precinct, while also introducing more shade and providing a more functional and aesthetically pleasing setting for events and activities. "It will deliver a more pleasant space for the community to use and enjoy and will provide an opportunity for existing activities such as the weekly farmers market to expand," he said.

"It will also allow exhibitions and events planned for the Roxy Gallery, the KMI and the museum to be broadened and extended into the public realm. Ultimately, we also hope to attract larger events and community activities to occur in the CBD in support of the community and town centre businesses."

Work to rejuvenate the area is expected to get underway in June 2022, and this timetable will allow for further public consultation on the wider plans for the town centre. "Council has received considerable community interest in connection with the draft plans that have recently been on public exhibition," Mr. White added. "We will now be reflecting on public feedback and working on a revised set of plans prior to a further round of community consultation, however it is pleasing to note the strong support for the civic precinct plans."

Plumbing PROBLEMS?

Is your sink, bath or shower tray draining slower than normal, or is your toilet overflowing? Are you experiencing an overflow in the garden? This could be a sign of a blocked pipe.

If you notice sewage leaking or overflowing from Council's network of pipes, please contact Council immediately on 66321611. If the sewage leak is on your property, call a licensed plumber immediately. Always avoid contact with raw sewage.

As part of Council's regulatory conditions, we will notify the EPA as per policy when a sewer overflow spills onto any Council land or waterway.

Council is responsible to clean up the overflow – do not attempt to clear the blockage yourself. We recommend you call a licensed plumber to assess the problem. They will be able to tell you if the blockage is in your pipes or Council pipes.

How do I fix my blocked sink?

If your sink is blocked, you should call a licensed plumber immediately. They can assist you in clearing your sink.

Council owns, manages and has the responsibility of the sewage network outside of your property boundary, and therefore cannot assist with faults within your home or business.

How do I fix my blocked pipes?

To clear the blockage you can call a licensed plumber to remove the blockage for you.

It is your responsibility if:

- your neighbours are not experiencing the blockage,
- your drainage is not shared with other properties,

- there is no flooding in your local area.

What to do if the blockage is in Council pipes?

It may be Council's responsibility if we have sewers in the area and one of the following applies:

- The problem is visible outside your property boundary (eg beyond your water meter),
- Your neighbour(s) are experiencing the same problem,
- There is widespread flooding in your local area.

If your property has been flooded by Council's sewer network or if the blockage is in Council's pipes, please contact us immediately.

We have a 24-hour call centre to respond to emergency works. Council will send a crew to clean-up and clear the blockage. We do not charge for clearing a sewer blockage that occurs up to the property connection point.

What if my plumber determines the blockage is in Council's network?

If your plumber has inspected your sewer pipe and identified that the blockage is in Council infrastructure, please contact Council. Alternatively, your plumber may choose to contact us directly and request one of our staff to inspect the site. If the location of the blockage is within the sewer network outside of your property line, then the response crew will investigate and resolve the problem.

What causes blockages?

Sewage pipes are only designed to take away sewage and toilet tissue. Blockages are typically caused by:

- fats or solids being washed down household pipes or flushed down toilets,
- tree roots entering and growing inside pipes,
- stormwater entering and overloading the sewage network,
- wipes and other foreign objects.

Responsible pet OWNERSHIP

Council is reminding dog owners of the need to ensure that their pets do not behave in a manner that inconveniences or causes distress to their neighbours, other residents and visitors to the area.

In recent months, Council has seen an increase in complaints relating to roaming and barking dogs. To ensure the comfort, safety and health of the whole community, the Companion Animals Act places certain responsibilities on all pet owners.

Everyone in our community has a right to enjoy our public places without feeling intimidated or inconvenienced by unrestrained dogs. Dog owners should ensure that their yards or gardens are securely fenced to prevent their pets from escaping. If your dog is in a public place, it must be under the effective control of a competent person by means of an adequate chain, cord or leash that is attached to that person. If your dog defecates in a public place it is an offence not to remove the faeces.

Barking is one of the ways that dogs communicate, but excessive barking may be very annoying, and can be prevented. There are a number of reasons why dogs may bark excessively, including the following:

- the dog may be able to see other people or dogs walking about.
- the dog may not have enough room to move and/or may not be getting enough exercise.
- the dog may be sick, lonely or seeking attention.

If you feel that your dog is well cared for, but continues to bark excessively, there are some things that may be tried to alleviate the problem:

- remove direct line of sight between your dog & the things that may be causing your dog to bark (e.g. people walking in the street).
- talk with a recognised animal trainer to discourage bad habits.

Breaches of the Companion Animals Act can result in the issue of fines and, where necessary, orders to declare dogs to be a nuisance, menacing or dangerous. "The vast majority of dog owners in our area take their responsibilities very seriously, and look after their pets accordingly" said Council Director of Planning and Environmental Services, Chris White, "However, in light of recent complaints, Council is taking this opportunity to just remind all dog owners of the need to ensure that their pets are suitably managed so as not to cause distress or concern to other members of our community."

Pet owners are also reminded of the need for their dogs and cats to be microchipped and registered (this requirement includes working dogs). Microchips provide a permanent link between the owner and their animal and help in reuniting lost pets with their owners. Puppies and Kittens are required to be microchipped from 12 weeks of age and registered from 6 months of age.

If you would like further information and assistance in connection with these matters, please contact Council on (02) 66321611 or email council@kyogle.nsw.gov.au.

Grant to upgrade Toonumbar WATERS RETREAT

The Toonumbar Water's Retreat could soon re-open its doors to local and visiting ecotourists after Kyogle Council and WaterNSW received a $330,000 grant to upgrade the tourist attraction.

The grant was made available through the Cross-Border Commissioner's Infrastructure Fund.

Council has long recognised the tourism and economic development potential of the retreat and has been working closely with WaterNSW to re-open the facility which closed in 2016.

The retreat, Toonumbar Dam and the Bells Bay Camping Area are owned by WaterNSW.

"The retreat and that whole area at the dam have such incredible potential for recreational and eco-tourism," Kyogle Council Mayor Cr Danielle Mulholland said.

"It's a great place to get back in touch with nature or to enjoy swimming, fishing, boating, kayaking, cycling, bushwalking, and camping.

"This grant will help unlock that potential and see Toonumbar Dam once again recognised as a top-notch destination and venue."

The grant will go towards the repair of the 20 cabins at the retreat, upgrade sewerage, electrical and water treatment systems, and compliance with fire safety regulations.

Once the upgrade has been complete, Council and WaterNSW will call for expressions of interest from third party operators to re-open and run the retreat.

"This is another wonderful example of what great things we can achieve for the community when Council works hand in hand with other agencies, in this case the Cross Border Commission, the NSW Government and WaterNSW," Cr Mulholland said.

"It's a win for all involved, and one I know the community will appreciate."

Resilience project LAUNCHED

In the wake of the 2019/20 bushfire and 2021 flood events, Council has appointed a Community Resilience Officer to assist communities to plan and prepare for, respond to, and recover from future disasters.

The role of the Community Resilience Officer is to work in partnership with village communities across the local government area (LGA) to develop Community Resilience Plans and then work with communities to help implement these plans.

The aim of the plans is to enhance resilience by empowering communities to improve their wellbeing and safety to be better able to cope in the face of disaster.

Climate change predictions indicate that disasters such as bushfire, floods and cyclones will become more frequent with increasing severity into the future.

So get involved and help to increase your own resilience and the resilience of your community.

Keep an eye out for the flyers advertising workshops in your area.

The first round of workshops are about listening to the community and hearing about what actions could be taken to strengthen and build resilience in the villages.

If you would like more information, please contact Scott Antcliff, Community Resilience Officer on 6632 1611.

Works PROGRESS

Work is almost complete on the Light Horse Memorial at Tabulam. Footings have been constructed, and by the time this newsletter reaches mailboxes, metal panels depicting mounted Light Horse will be installed. Installation of lights and flagpoles will follow.

Replacement of Alcocks Bridge on Bentley Road is complete. Construction of the bridge was finished in mid-June and sealed at the end of the month. Speed limits at the bridge will be reduced until installation of traffic barriers is complete.

Other bridge work completed in June was the replacement of Haystack Bridge on Yabbra Road and Matthews Bridge on Green Pigeon Road. Bridge projects commenced in June are bridge replacements on Old Lawrence Road and Sandy Creek Road where Council is replacing the old timber structures with new steel and concrete bridges and the replacement of a timber bridge with concrete piped culvert on Old Dyraaba Road. In July, Council will commence bridge to pipe replacements on Yongurra Road and Connells Road.

In June, Council completed an upgrade project on a section of Clarence Way at Tunglebung. The work included road widening, improvement of drainage and road pavement, and installation of guideposts. With this job done, the crew is moving north and we will have two crews working under traffic control to upgrade and rehabilitate the Clarence Way between Urbenville and Woodenbong.

EXHIBITION A

journey of artistic creation

Denis Hopking and Eleni Mann invite you to their upcoming exhibition of sculptural ceramics, pastel paintings and charcoal drawings to be held at Council's Roxy Gallery from 7 July to 1 August, 2021.

Denis had been contemplating his next artistic challenge since having his retrospective exhibition in 2019 at the Roxy Gallery covering 45 years of being a potter and sculptor.

"I had just moved to Kyogle so I thought that maybe now is the time to go back to the basics of pottery and combine this into sculptural vessels – back to my roots," he said.

"I was born in Africa and over my life I have been taken on a journey from pit-fired African burnished ware to the exciting firings of Raku, a technique coming both from Japan but also further developed in America.

Denis' journey after his retrospective exhibition, was to make his own Raku kilns and to embark on creative research, experimentation and exploration.

"I didn't want to make ordinary pottery. I had been a domestic potter for a long time.

I began making ritualistic vessels and sculptural pieces.

"The techniques I am using in this exhibition are all new to me - even though I have had many years experience in this craft."

"I love making textures, achieving tones on dynamic forms – it's not straight forward – the intermingling of colours – it's a painterly thing on three dimensional form - that's where Eleni and I overlap. Eleni is a painter and I am a sculptor."

Eleni's artistic journey includes years of teaching and exploring drawing and painting in schools and workshops.

Her new series of works use colour pastels incorporating the observations of roses.

"The rose began to emerge from the surrounding space evoking an inward meditative mood in colour and ethereal light," Eleni said.

"The pastels themselves are pure pigment and are applied directly in a painterly method using brushes and fingers which results in a more sensitive connection with the artwork.

"I am interested in how colour can create a mood – some are fiery, poetic, dreamy or energetic. Others elicit a meditative feeling."

COMMUNITY

news and events

Exercise classes

Stretch and tone classes are held from 10.30am to noon Mondays and Thursdays at the Bonalbo Community Hall.

The classes feature pilates and yoga integrated into a full body workout, targeting over 40s.

Admission is a gold coin donation.

Talent quest

No matter whether you're a gum leaf player, a ballet dancer or you're in a rock band, if you've got a talent, you should head to Hanging Rock Hall on Sunday, 5 September, for a chance to win big.

The Father's Day talent show kicks off at 1pm and features two sections – one for juniors aged eight to 15 years of age, and an open section for everybody else.

Winner of the Hanging Rock's Got Talent open section will win $400 cash, while the second placegetter will take home $100. First place in the junior section will receive $100, with $50 going to the second place getter.

Contestants must registration by 25 August. As limited performance time slots are available, people are encouraged to register as soon as possible to avoid disappointment.

Kyogle Bazaar TO CLOSE

The 24 July Kyogle Bazaar will be the last.

Organisers of the popular monthly market, Kyogle Together, have made the difficult decision to close the Bazaar due to a combination of factors.

A spokesperson for Kyogle Together and the Kyogle Bazaar team said "The Bazaar currently has expenses that outweigh the income .

"The Bazaar is also very dependent on volunteer participation and despite our every effort to grow our volunteer team, we have not been able to recruit any new volunteers for a long period of time,

"We currently have a handful of amazing volunteers; however, we cannot continue to expect them to hold up the market on their own.

"In our experience the Bazaar cannot continue solely as a volunteer run program as we have seen the cycles of burn out repeated and it would be irresponsible of us to continue to run in this format."

In announcing the decision, the spokesperson for Kyogle Together said the organisation understood the value of the Bazaar to the Kyogle community, making the decision to close it all the more difficult to make.

"We believe whole heartedly that Kyogle needs spaces like the Bazaar where people can express their creativity, earn an income and connect with friends or community groups," the spokesperson said.

"The Bazaar creates happiness and social connection which are so important for all our wellbeing and resilience.

"We want to thank all of our stallholders, volunteers and patrons for their passion and commitment over the years.

"Let's take the next couple of months to reflect on the outstanding achievements of the Bazaar and acknowledge the wonderful moments that have been created along our way!

"Let's also be there for each other as many will feel a sadness and need the support of their Bazaar colleagues."

RIVER BANK

repair works continue

Contractors were on site in Roseberry Creek recently to address erosion and creek stability issues as part of a larger soils and riparian vegetation project in the Upper Richmond catchment.

Further sites in the Upper Richmond will be addressed in 2022 and 2023 as part of the project, funded through Local Land Services (LLS) by the National Landcare Program (NLP2).

The current work is the third round of works that have stabilised erosion on seven sites in Roseberry Creek and the adjacent stretch of the Richmond River.

Site works include the use of rock revetments and hardwood pins to stabilise creek banks, and rock ramps to raise water levels and prevent the upstream movement of erosion in the creek bed.

Establishment of native vegetation is also a key part of the long-term strategy to stabilize creek and river banks.

The works were designed and supervised by the team from the Soil Conservation Service, with support from Border Ranges Richmond Valley Landcare Network (BRRVLN) and Conservation Volunteers Australia (CVA), for landholder liaison, weed control and plantings.

For more information about the project, contact the Landcare office in Kyogle on 6632 3722 or email sustainable.ag@brrvln.org.au
