

Draft Flying-fox Management Plan on public display

Council has released the draft Kyogle Flying-fox Camp Management Plan (the plan) for public exhibition and comment.

The plan has been prepared to guide future management of the Kyogle Flying-fox Camp located along Fawcetts Creek from the Kyogle Recreation Reserve to the Kyogle Showground.

It aims to reduce current and future conflicts between humans and the Flying-fox Camp via a range of general and location-specific management actions. These actions are outlined in the draft plan.

The community was engaged during the development of the draft plan. Information and views collected from a range of stakeholders were used to inform the draft plan's management actions.

The plan will be on public exhibition until 4pm Monday, 18 April 2022. Public submissions may be made via email to council@kyogle.nsw.gov.au or in writing to PO Box 11, Kyogle, NSW 2474.

To view the draft Kyogle Flying-fox Camp Management Plan please go to <https://www.kyogle.nsw.gov.au/council-engagement/council-business/on-public-exhibition/>

A hard copy of the draft plan is also available to view at Council's Administration Centre at 1 Stratheden Street, Kyogle.

Thank you to the NSW Government who provided funding to enable development of the draft plan.
