

The Kyogle Council has announced the appointment of Brett Kelly as General Manger effective from the 12th of December 2023.

Brett brings extensive experience in leadership and successfully managing large complex organizations over the past twenty-five years.

Brett's most recent role was that of CEO for peak industry body AMIA (Australian Mango Industry Association). Prior to that he was the CEO for Australia's largest farmer-owned berry producer Oz Group Co-operative, as well as earlier spending nearly ten years as the CEO for Norco Co-operative.

We welcome Brett on board and look forward to working together.
